

Washington Dental Service

Providing “Incentives” for Oral Health

Dental benefits as motivational?
Who knew!

Washington Dental Service’s incentive plans encourage regular dental visits and preventive care by increasing benefits each year.

- Employees who see their dentists regularly help control their own dental costs; those rewarded with increased benefits over time tend to see their dentists more frequently.
- Regular preventive care can reduce long-term costs and the need for more costly dental procedures.
- Encouraging workers to prevent dental problems can reduce the cost of lost work time.

BONUS: Incentive plans help retain good employees by providing them higher benefits the longer they are on the plans.
