

.....What is Dry Mouth?.....

Dry mouth is very common among older adults —1 in 3 have this condition. But, it is not a normal part of aging.

Dry mouth can make it difficult to eat, taste food, swallow, and speak. Common symptoms of dry mouth are:

- Frequent thirst
- Bad breath
- Cracked lips or corners of the mouth; sores in or around the mouth
- A sticky, dry feeling in the mouth and/or throat
- A burning or tingling feeling in the mouth and especially on the tongue
- Sore throat or hoarseness

.....How saliva protects your mouth.....

- Washes away food particles
- Kills bacteria
- Neutralizes acids that cause tooth decay
- Strengthens teeth with minerals like calcium and fluoride
- Moistens your mouth, nose, and throat

.....Talk to your healthcare providers if your mouth feels dry.....

Many prescription and over-the-counter medications contribute to dry mouth. For example, drugs that treat:

- Depression or Anxiety
- Asthma & Allergies
- High Blood Pressure
- Parkinson's Disease
- Pain
- Acid Reflux
- Urinary Incontinence

Dry mouth can also be caused by health conditions like diabetes and high blood pressure or cancer treatments.

Do not stop taking your medications. Talk with your pharmacist or doctor about dry mouth. There may be different medications you can try.

.....Manage dry mouth in healthy ways.....

- 1 Drink extra water (with your doctor's approval).
Sip water during the day and with meals. Fluoridated water is best.
- 2 Use a saliva substitute or oral moisturizer.
These are available in most pharmacies. They help moisten your mouth, reduce bacteria, and increase comfort. Use during the day and before bedtime.
- 3 Chew sugarless gum or mints, especially those with xylitol.
Xylitol is a natural sweetener that protects teeth from decay.
- 4 Use a humidifier at night.
The extra moisture can help you feel more comfortable.

.....Avoid painful and costly oral disease.....

Dry mouth causes:

- Cavities in the roots of teeth
- Diseased gums
